What Is Going On Tonight

Channing P. Huntington, agent for Oakland motor cars, arrived here Thursday night with an Oakland road-ster which is to be delivered to Carey Congdon of New London. The car is of particular interest, as it was finished especially for the Boston auto show last week. It is finished in cream color with striping of chocolate color, and attracted wide attention while here.

FOUR BANTA BROTHERS.

Great Musical Act at the Davis Today One of the finest vaudeville and photoplay bills ever presented in the city can be seen at this theatre today. Evcan be seen at this theatre today. Every act is a topnotcher and the pictures are away ahead of anything ever shown here. Heading the bill is the Four Banta Brothers, a quartette of clever musicians, singers and dancers who have a classy offering, playing several instruments and finishing with fife and drum number that will make you want to keep your feet going. The snare drum used in this number is a relic of the Civil war and the bass drum dates back to the war of 1812. Another act that is pleasing at every show is Yeager and White, a clever team of singers and dancers, and George C. Davis completes the bill with a corking good monologue. The way in rears of laughter. The Paramount feature today is the great dramatic play, Ready Money, with the noted actor, Edward Abeles, and a strong cast of popular favorites. The picture is in five acts and has over 300 striking scenes. The remainder of the programme consists of Mutual Movies and gramme consists of autual Movies and one furny Keystone comedy called A Bird's a Bird, with Chester Conklin, that funny little fellow with the baggy pents, and all the other famous Keystone comedians. For the first half of next week another excellent bill of vaudeville and Paramount photoplays has been booked, with Lora, the human period as the special attraction Peta parrot, as the special attraction. Pete Curly & company will present a cork-ing comedy sketch, and Frank Garfield complete the three acts with clever line of songs and stories. The photoplay feature is The Man from Home, the great American play, with Charles Richman playing the leading role. The Mutual War Weekly and one funny Keystone will also be shown. Three complete shows today, at 2.15, 6.45 and 8.45. Matinee, all seats 10c.

SEATS ON SALE At 10 a. m. Today for II Trovatore a the Davis.

The Boston English Opera company which comes to the Davis theatre Tuesday, March 23, is following a new method in the presentation of opera. Instead of doing five or six different operas in an indifferent manner, some fairly good and some very bad, it has confined all its energy to one opera, making a production of rare beauty, and, what is more important, every member of the company has been seected for their special ability in this one opera.

It does not require a great deal of ught to realize that such a course have only one result, namely, to make a performance ten times better, more finished and in every way su-perior than would be possible when a half dozen different operas are done. Opera singers, like people in other professions, have certain preferences; some are great in one opera, and some in others. The cast of the Boston English Opera company are all stars of note and, what is more to the point, they have all made their greatest success in Il Trovatore. They have been selected for that reason purely, Joseph F. Sheehan is acknowledged the world over as one of the greatest exponents of the role of Manrico of the present day. Miss Elaine De Sellem stands in a class by herself as far as the role of the gypsy hag is concern-ed. Her interpretation is said to be one of the finest pieces of character singing on the operatic stage. Miss Mirth Carmen ranks among the great-est Leonoras of English opera. Arthur Deane, both with the Castle Square a Opera company, has won fame for his depiction of Count Di Luna, Har-old J. Gels' deep bass voice and heroic style is particularly well suited to The others in the cast, Miss Grace Dexsee, William Young, Merce-des Dalamada, Miss Louise Heming, William Hamilton, Clark Harcourt, etc., have all been chosen for their success in Il Trovatore. Even the chorus had been particularly selected for this one opera.

Prices $1.50, $1, 75c, 50c, 35c, and 25c.

Seats on sale at 10 a. m. today.

COLONIAL THEATRE.

Alice Joyce Appearing in The Theft of the Crown Jewels, Two Reels. This is the mammoth feature of the Kalem studio that everyone has been waiting for, the stupendous event in Miss Joyce enjoys the distinction of being the first and only actress to positively wear a million dollars to positively wear a million dollars' worth of jewels in a production for the screen. These amazingly beautiful jewels were loaned to this most popular beauty of the screen by prominent Fifth avenue jewelers of New York city. Numerous detectives filled the accessible nooks of the stage setting worth of jewels in a production for the screen. These amazingly beautiful jewels were loaned to this most popular beauty of the screen by prominent Fifth avenue jewelers of New York city. Numerous detectives filled the accessible nooks of the stage setting fluring the taking of the picture, to properly protect these gems. The picture itself is further adorned by Miss Joyce's appearance in a Lucille (Lady Duff-Gordon) gown costing over $3,000. The play itself deals with life in the royal circles and is therefore glitteringly beautiful and the plot is intensely absorbing. A Pound for a Pound is the big Essanay feature, and The Primitive Way is the Selig drama. Bewitching little Bobby Connelly of the Vitagraph plays lead in Chiefly Concerning Males, a masterful Vitagraph plays lead in Chiefly Conce cerning Maies, a masterful Vitagraph production. The bill for today is a su-perb one and everyone should avail themselves of the opportunity of see-

AT THE AUDITORIUM TODAY.

Today will be the last chance to see the Honeymooners company in their busical comedy farce Who Died First, which pleased yesterday's audiences so than ever before. We advise farmers nuch and drew exceptionally big performances. Felix Martin, the funny rench dialect comedian, and Lot Powers, one of the cleverest comedians ever seen here, keep the house roaring with laughter all during the show. The with laughter all during the show. The ien girls, wearing many changes of bostume, sing and dance well in the husical numbers, and altogether Who Died First makes a very pleasing bill. The Animated Weekly, showing the lafest current event, will be seen on the place of the state the picture programme today, and also very interesting rural and society frama with Pauline Bush in the leading role will be shown.

There will be three shows, at 2.30, 7 and 8.40, and the usual admission pany, and it will be the attraction here all next week. The Tourist, a big spectacular scenic extravaganza, will be the bill on Monday and Tuesday, with Lew Orth and Miss Lillian in the leading roles. Besides the expensive scenery, many elaborate stage effects are seen in this light musical farce, and many costumes of the very latest designs will be worn by the big chorus of pretty girls. The show is staged in two big scenes, first a Venetian canal and second New York harbor, both scenes being the work of the Metro-politan Studio, New York city, and some of the musical numbers will be condoier Love, On the Board Walk, Triple Alliance Love, Venetian Swing and others. A particular feature of this company is the dancing of four of its members, Miss Lillian, J. B. York,

B. Coden and Cassie Clifford, who will introduce several corking dancing numbers. The show will run a full two hours, including the Universal photoplays, the feature being Haunted
